Dr. Charles V. Paterno, builder of many fine West Side structures, is the and 15 buyer. He has taken the plot and the house at 302 West Eighty-eighth street. which gives him 100 feet on the street, the possession of citizens of the United as the site for a thirteen-story building, similar to the apartment he has erected at Seventh avenue and Fifty-eighth street. The house and its site will stand Dr. Paterno about $1,200,000, an amount which he and his financial backers are willing to invest, because of the success of the thirteen-story houses being built on Eighty-fourth street, from Broadway to West End avenue.

Though these houses are months from completion, five of the eight stores in the Broadway building have been leased and a number of suites in both buildings have been leased from the plans. The property secured yesterday is the last unimproved corner available in the section. RUSSELL HEADS ARTISTS.

Walter Russell, a portrait painter, is purchased the Fullerton-Weaver plot on the north side of Sixty-seventh street, 100 feet west of Central Park West, the sale of which was reported in The Sun yesterday. His company will erect a twenty-story studio hotel, probably of the cooperative type. The directors of the Hotel des Artistes, the title under which the property was acquired, are Emil Jonas, Michael Foray and George Mort Pollard. Mr. Russell is not new to the real estate market, having erected sev-eral buildings notable for size and at-tractiveness. The principal one of these is the Manhattan Square Apartment at 44 to 50 West Seventy-seventh street, a cooperative house which is considered among the finest specimens of gothic architecture among city apartments.

The trustees of the African Zion Methodist Episcopal Church have asked the Supreme Court to sanction a sale of their former edifice, 127 West Eighty-ninth street. The structure occupies a plot 75x 100.8, between Amsterdam and Columbus avenues, and is directly opposite Public School 166. The congregation acquired the property in 1993, and worshiped there lic School 166. The congregation acquired the property in 1903, and worshiped there up to last January, when it purchased the Church of the Holy Redeemer at 153 West 136th street.

WINS IN LONG LITIGATION.

Ambrose Reinstated After Four Years as Supt. of Municipal Ferries. John F. Ambrose, who had been in the ferry service more than twenty-five years and was dismissed in 1910 as superinten-dent of municipal ferries by Dock Commisioner Tomkins, on the ground of neg-lect of duty, was reinstated yesterday by Supreme Court Justice Greenbaum after four years litigation.

four years litigation.

Ambrose sued for reinstatement on the ground that he was removed for political reasons. A jury in the Supreme Court upheld this contention, but Justice Greenbaum refused to sign the order of reinstatement. Ambrose then got a favorable decision from the Court of Appeals, as the result of which Justice Greenbaum restored him to duty yesterday. He will receive about $5,000 back pay for the period during which he was off duty period during which he was off duty
